Our innovative WES system was launched in 2009, initially designed to meet the specific evacuation and fire alarm needs of the construction industry. Recognised as the first EN54 compliant wireless evacuation and fire alarm, we have continued to invest in and develop our pioneering product range and you can now find our market-leading solutions in a diverse range of applications in properties, buildings, sites and factories around the world.

This presentation is just a snapshot of the sectors where you can find our wireless systems in active use. We can work with you to design the ideal solution to meet the scale of your fire protection challenge, however big or small.
